Ex-UNILORITE, Omotowa, bags NNPC top position

As part of the overhaul, Engr Bashir Bayo Ojulari was appointed the new Group Managing Director, Engr Ahmadu Musa Kida was appointed as NNPC's new Non-Executive Chairman, while five other Non-Executive Directors were also appointed.

Mr Omotowa, a former Managing Director of the Nigerian Liquefied Natural Gas Limited, is a graduate of Industrial Chemistry from the University of Ilorin.

Meanwhile, the Vice Chancellor, Prof. Wahab Olasupo Egbewole, SAN, has congratulated Mr Omotowa, on his appointment, saying, "It is well-deserved, considering Mr Omotowa's impressive credentials and experience in the global oil business."

In a statement issued by the University Director of Corporate Affairs, Mr Kunle Akogun, the Vice Chancellor, who described Mr Omotowa as a thoroughbred professional and outstanding alumnus of the nation's most sought-after University, said that the appointee has all it would take to discharge the responsibilities expected of him to the fullest.

The Professor of

Jurisprudence and International Law urged Mr Omotowa to seize the privilege of the appointment to work with others towards ensuring the revamp of the nation's economy, which is largely oil-dependent.

Prof. Egbewole thanked President Tinubu for the confidence reposed in Mr Omotowa, saying that the new Non-Executive Director would give a very good account of himself.

The Vice Chancellor wished Mr Omotowa a very peaceful and successful tenure.

Mr Agezeh, who is a final year student of the Department of Accounting, said that as a former resident of the Lagos Male Hostel, he is convinced that the renovation is the best thing that could happen to the facility.

He added that the renovation, apart from improving the aesthetic value of the campus, would also stimulate quality learning among occupants of the hostels.

Mr Agezeh also gave a thumbs-up to the University Administration for the renovation of some segments of the institution's academic areas, saying that the renovation of the 10 blocks accommodating a few Faculties and Departments would also enhance service delivery on the part of staff as it will also stimulate a conducive learning environment among students.

He urged the University Administration to extend the renovation to other public hostels and facilities in the University to ensure a better teaching and learning environment.

Mr Agezeh also appealed to students to use the renovated facilities with care to ensure their durability and to encourage the Administration to do more.

UNILORIN Alumni Association hails Tinubu on Omotowa, others' appointment

By Abubakar Imam

The University of Ilorin Alumni Association has lauded President Bola Ahmed Tinubu, GCFR, on the recent appointment of three of its members into various leadership positions.

Those appointed were Mrs. Kemi Nana Nandap, Comptroller General of Immigration, whose tenure was elongated till December 2026; Mr. Babs Omotowa, recently appointed Non-Executive Director of the Nigerian National Petroleum Company Limited (NNPCL), and Prof. James A. Aribisala, the pioneer Vice Chancellor of the Federal University of Technology and Environmental Sciences, Iyin-Ekiti.

In a press statement jointly signed by its National President, Prof. AbdulRasaq Kilani, and National Secretary, Dr Barakat Raji, the Association said that it received the news of the appointments with excitement.

■ Mr Omotowa

Commending President Tinubu for selecting the best for the various positions, the Association assured him that the trio would not disappoint him in the attainment of the goals set for them.

While felicitating with the appointed members on their well-deserved appointment, the Association charged them to always show the excellence in them by surpassing the targets set for them by Mr President.

The Association, which equally

extolled the pedigrees of the appointed members in their various fields, implored them to live up to the expectations of the slogan of the institution's "better by far" in all ramifications.

The statement prayed for successful tenure as it tasked the appointees not to hesitate to reach out to the Association whenever its support is needed in any capacity.

Institute of Translation Arts set to host maiden Public Lecture

By Idris Alooma

All is set for the Institute of Translation Arts, University of Ilorin, to host its maiden Public Lecture, aimed at transforming the field of translation and interpretation.

The Ag. Director of the Institute, Dr. Aliy Abdulwahid Adebisi, who disclosed this, said that the lecture is scheduled for next Monday (April 14, 2025), at 10.00 a.m. It will hold at the University Auditorium.

Dr Adebisi, who said that the Lecture, titled "Translation in the Digital Era: Navigating AI Disruptions and Opportunities," will feature experts who will explore the intersection of translation and Artificial Intelligence (AI).

■ Dr Adebisi

He added that notable speakers include Prof. Mahfouz Adebola Adedimeji, Vice-Chancellor of the African School of Economics, Abuja, and Dr Segun Afolabi, Assistant Professor of Translation at the University of Regina, Canada.

Dr Adebisi stated further that the distinguished guests of honour will include Prof. Adam Adebayo Sirajudeen from the Federal University, Lafia, Nasarawa State, and Dr Ahmad Abubakar Agbaje from Fountain University, Osogbo. The Chief Host will be Prof. Wahab Olasupo Egbewole, SAN, the Vice-Chancellor of the University of Ilorin, while Dr. Adebisi will serve as the Host.

The Director said that this landmark public lecture will present a unique opportunity for scholars, linguists, professionals, and enthusiasts to engage with the latest developments in translation and AI.

Egbewole greets Olu Obafemi on 75th birthday

By Abubakar Imam

As an Emeritus Professor at the University of Ilorin, Olu Obafemi, SAN, marked his 75th birthday last Friday (April 4, 2025), the Vice Chancellor, Prof. Wahab Olasupo Egbewole, SAN, has described him as an outstanding scholar and eminent statesman who has paid his due.

Prof. Egbewole stated this in a statement signed by the University Director of Corporate Affairs, Mr Kunle Akogun.

The Vice Chancellor described Emerit. Prof. Obafemi, who is a former Nigerian National Merit Award winner, as one of the most impactful members of the University community who served the institution gloriously throughout his career as a teacher and University administrator.

He added that the University would continue to celebrate the scholarly achievements of the retired don, which brought numerous recognitions to the University.

The Vice Chancellor added that the University would continue to follow the progress of its retired staff wherever they are as it does for those who are still in service.

Prof. Egbewole encouraged the Emeritus Professor and his likes to continue to provide quality mentorship for the younger ones for the nation to produce more patriots like them.

He, along with a former Vice Chancellor of the University and current Registrar/Chief Executive of the Joint Admissions and Matriculation Board (JAMB), Prof. Is'haq Olanrewaju Oloyede, CON, and a former Vice Chancellor of the Federal University of Technology, Minna, Prof. Musibau Adewumi Akanji, were early in the year appointed Emeritus Professors by the University authorities in recognition of their contributions to advancement of knowledge and human development.

Fac. of Education hosts seminar on fitness and recreational exercise

By Isaac Lewu

The Faculty of Education, University of Ilorin, has organised a seminar titled "Keep Fit and Recreational Exercise 2025, to emphasise the importance of physical and mental well-being among educators and students.

The event, held penultimate Thursday (March, 27, 2025) at the Education Lecture Theatre (EDLT), brought together academics, health professionals, and students to discuss the significance of fitness and recreational activities in enhancing overall productivity and well-being.

In his opening remarks, the Dean of the Faculty, Prof. Lasiele Alabi Yahaya, underscored the need for educators to prioritise their health, noting that "academic responsibilities often take precedence over personal wellness, a trend that must change."

Prof. Yahaya added that the programme is not just another lecture or seminar, but a wake-up call, for a moment of reflection, and, more importantly, a call to action.

The Convener of the seminar, Dr Rofiat Dauda Olajide, said that fitness is not just about appearance but a key component of mental clarity, stress reduction, and overall productivity.

According to her, "it is essential that we change our mindset towards exercise. It is not a luxury but a necessity. Be it a simple stretch, a short walk, or structured workout routines, the goal is to stay active and maintain balance."

Dr Olajide commended the organising committee, the guest speakers, and all attendees, emphasising that fitness should be an institutional priority rather than an individual responsibility.

She expressed optimism that the seminar would serve as a catalyst for a culture of fitness within the University and beyond.

The first Keynote Speaker, Dr Adijat Mojisola Abdulaheem of the Department of Health Promotion and Environmental Health Education, said that the aim of the seminar was to promote fitness in a way that also benefits the environment.

She pointed out the challenges of implementing the initiative, including limited green spaces, insufficient infrastructure, and policy gaps. To counter these challenges, she proposed solutions such as eco-friendly fitness facilities, student-led conservation projects, and the introduction of solar-powered fitness equipment on campus.

The second presentation was made by Dr M. G. Aina of the Department of Human Kinetics Education, who emphasised the practical steps to integrate fitness into daily routines.

He noted that many professionals neglect their health due to busy schedules, leading to increased stress and health-related issues.

Among dignitaries at the Seminar were the Director of Sports, University of Ilorin, Prof. Tajudeen Olarewaju Ibraheem; the immediate past Director of Sports, of the University, Prof. Olufunmilola Dominic; Prof. Olukunmi Lanre Olaitan, Prof. A. A. Sanusi, Prof. S. O. Oniyangi, Dr M. T. Akanbi, as well as staff and students of the Faculty.

UNILORIN Staff School honours Adebisi, seven other retirees

By Mustafa Abubakar

The University of Ilorin Staff School has honoured Mr George Adenle Adebisi and seven other retiring staff members for their exceptional contributions to the growth and development of the school. Mr Adebisi is also a retiring Deputy Director in the Directorate of Corporate Affairs.

The send-off ceremony, which was held last Thursday (April 3, 2025) at the Obayomi Hall within the school premises, was organised to celebrate the retirees' years of dedicated service and to recognise their impact on generations of pupils through teaching, mentorship, and administrative support.

Mr Adebisi, a Linguistics graduate, majoring in Yoruba, was a senior teacher at the school before moving to the Directorate of Corporate Affairs in 2016.

Other honourees included Mr Tawab Funsho, Mrs Bola Jane Okoro, Mr Jonathan Babatunde, Mr Sanjo Aderoju, Mrs Fausat Abdul, Mrs Florence Toyin Opakunle, and Mrs Omoyemi Ikujuni.

Speaking with UNILORIN Bulletin at the ceremony, Mr Adebisi, who was praised for nurturing numerous pupils and helping them reach greater heights in their careers, appreciated the school authority, the University Management, and the Directorate of Corporate Affairs, for the enabling environment and opportunities given him to serve. He prayed that God would reward everyone bountifully.

In his opening remarks, the Chairman of the Parents-Teachers Association (PTA) of the School, Mr Daniel Ayodele, who spoke on behalf of parents and teachers, expressed appreciation to the retirees, describing them as pillars, who helped shape the school into one of the best among its peers. He encouraged them to continue their legacy even in retirement.

Speaking on the topic, "The Journey So Far," the PTA Chairman reflected on the importance of making meaningful contributions to one's environment. "We should all ask ourselves what our response would be if God asked, 'What have you done for your community'," he stated.

He described retirement as a joyful transition and commended the honourees for their glowing legacies. "The reward of a teacher is not only in the hereafter. It is being seen and appreciated today," he added, urging them to remain sources of inspiration.

Also speaking at the event, the Assistant Secretary of the Senior Staff Association of Nigerian Universities (SSANU), Comrade Atologun, who represented the Chairman, reaffirmed the Association's commitment to supporting the Staff School. He emphasised that the school remains a proud part of the SSANU family and appreciated the retirees for training generations of students.

The Headmaster of the School, Mallam AbdulRahman Solihu, in his address, expressed joy over the success of the event, which he said had been in planning for six months. He appreciated the University Management, PTA, and SSANU executives for their support and prayed for the well-being of the retirees.

In their responses, Mr Sanjo Aderoju and Mrs Bola Jane Okoro, who spoke on behalf of the honourees, expressed gratitude to the school and advised staff members to remain united and committed to excellence.

Mr Aderoju urged everyone to take good care of their health and prayed for smooth processing of their entitlements while Mrs Okoro encouraged discipline, financial planning, and diligence, advising younger staff not to wait for recognition from people but to trust in divine reward.

The ceremony was graced by family members, colleagues, friends, children, and grandchildren of the retirees, creating a lively and emotional atmosphere filled with gratitude and celebration.
